STAT

In response to your recent telephone call, I have looked into the current status of your application for employment with this Agency.

There has been no important change in our vacancy situation since your visit with us in May. Your file has been kept in an active status to ensure appropriate consideration should a suitable position become available for you. As of this date, however, a position commensurate with your experience and salary requirement has not become available. We shall, of course, keep your file active and advise you if an opportunity for your employment with us should arise.

Your continued interest in our work is appreciated.

Sincerely,

SIGNED
